

OBJEKT[©] INTERNATIONAL

USA | CANADA

03 LIVING IN STYLE

LIFE BEFORE DESIGN

HOLLYWOOD
DESIGN MIRACLES

NENDO
AT THE HOLON MUSEUM

CHINA ART PERSPECTIVE

MAIAM MUSEUM
OF CHIANG MAI

PRICE $11.99

QUARTERLY - FALL 2016

Massimo Iosa Ghini designs interiors Brickell Flatiron

Located at 1001 South Miami Avenue, Brickell Flatiron is a spectacular residential skyscraper realized at Miami's Flatiron Park. It is the latest project by developer Ugo Colombo of CMC Group from Miami. He describes the project as a new architectural icon bringing a culture of elegance and artfulness to the center of downtown Miami's most vibrant neighborhood.

Designed by architect Luis Revuelta, Brickell Flatiron's expansive floor plan layouts are comprised of 1, 2, 3, 4 and 5 bedrooms, as well as a limited number of penthouses and duplex residences. The most striking elements are the innovative designed interiors by the Italian interior architect Massimo Iosa Ghini. He blended sinuous architectural elements and bold textures and created sophisticated spaces with extraordinary allure. With its chic mix of art, furnishings, and dynamic amenity lay outs, Massimo's design of Brickell Flatiron embodied the Miami style at its best.

For the kitchens in the apartments, the designer used Snaidero kitchen cabinetry with stainless steel back splash and Cesarstone counter tops. The appliances are by Miele.

In the bathrooms with custom designed Milldue cabinetry & marble flooring the designer incorporated Zucchetti faucets and Duravit ceramics. The wide elliptical balconies, are finished with Italian porcelain tile flooring by Casalgrande Padana. Inside the grand lobby, he incorporated large scale paintings from New York artist Julian Schnabel produced exclusively for Brickell Flatiron, creating a masterpieces art gallery for its residents.

Brickell Flatiron has a rooftop pool, spa & fitness center with 360°unobstructed, panoramic views of Biscayne Bay and downtown Miami's glimmering cityscape.